Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.

Yea, let them that wait on thee be ashamed: let them that be ashamed of thee transgress without cause.

Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.

Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy loving kindness; for they have been ever of old.

Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness sake, O Lord.—Psalm 25:1-7.

Another big machine shed has made its appearance in our district on the farm of Jack Seward, built by Reynolds and Taylor construction.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beles and son, back from P.B.I. at Three Hills. Sam is helping George Ford on the farm.

Last Sunday a tape recording was made of the church service at Passchendale, for broadcast over CKSA Lloydminster at a later date. It has been brought to our attention that if listeners who enjoy Morning Devotions over this station, would drop the management a letter to that effect, it might do much toward keeping it on the air.

We notice a new blue Plymouth on the road lately, happy owners, the Fred Youngers.

Howard Oilman has returned home feeling improved after several days in the Wainwright hospital.

Last Saturday, seeding operations were finished on the Jack Taylor farm. The rest of us are hard at it. In school we were taught that the longest day is June 21st. On the farm it seems there are several, early in May.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON — Alberta's education system is undergoing the most microscopic examination of its life at the hands of the Cameron Royal Commission.

The commission wound up its initial public hearings in the capital city last week, then began a tour through other parts of the province to hear briefs and submissions from interested organizations and individuals.

It probably will be at least a year before the commission is ready to report its findings to the government, but one result of the investigation is already apparent.

It has generated tremendous interest in the Alberta education program.

This is evident in the fact that the six-member commission, set up late last year by the government, has received well over 100 briefs. Before the hearings are over, it may be closer to 200.

Originally, the commission was scheduled to hear some 60 briefs in Edmonton during the first session of public hearings. But more arrived in the final every day, and it soon became obvious that the 15 days set aside weren't sufficient. So the commission sat only 10 days here and heard 26 briefs before moving on. Hearings will resume in Edmonton in the fall.

Most of the briefs heard so far have had one thing in common. They express dissatisfaction with the way the schools are doing things today. They say the students aren't receiving the solid background in the basic academic subjects, and that standards all round are lower than they were 20 years ago.

One of the strongest attacks on the present system came from the Association of Professional Engineers of Alberta. It said the "persistent lowering in standards of high school graduates" is making it increasingly difficult to meet Canada's growing demands for trained personnel.

The engineers were particularly unhappy about deficiencies in English, mathematics, physics and chemistry. Adding weight to their argument was the appearance before the Commission of members of the university engineering faculty, who have experience in dealing with the products of the province's high schools.

The association deplored the trend in the schools to accept the responsibility for development of the "whole child." It said society does not want the school to train the whole child — that the home and the church have their responsibilities too. The fundamental responsibility of the school is to teach the fundamental academic skills, it said.

The engineers' submission had added strength because of the fact that professional educators appeared with the delegation, but that was not the case with most of the other organizations.

Senator Donald Cameron, commission chairman, has been asking for specific evidence to support claims that the school system is falling down on the job, but so far he has received practically nothing. Mostly, it has been hearsay and opinion.

The school system was defended by the Alberta Teachers' Association. But the ATA wasn't too happy about the way the province trains teachers. The association spoke in favor of abolishing the one-year training course and requiring the four-year university degree course as the sole basis for teacher certification.

It argued that raising standards would improve the prestige of the teaching profession and thereby attract more young people into careers in education.

While the public hearings are an important part of the commission's job, it is expected that most of the findings will be based on the results of extensive research projects being carried on behind the scenes.

Experts are working on a variety of investigations. For instance, they are studying the record of the entire provincial grade nine class of 1955. They want to know what has become of the bright students, how many have dropped out before finishing grade 12, and what is the effectiveness of the rural schools are compared with large urban schools.

The teaching profession also is being probed. The researchers want to find out how ade-

Ontario — Here Comes Alberta Gas

Calgary, April 28 — Approximately 3,000 men will be working this year in the field building the final 853-mile link of the Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline from Alberta to Eastern Canada, C. S. Coates, president of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited, declared today in Calgary on the occasion of the company's annual meeting. Total cost of 1958 construction will be approximately $185,000,000.

Completion of the line is scheduled for the fall of 1958, Mr. Coates said, when Alberta natural gas will be available to the homes and industries as far east as Montreal.

The Rocky Mountains were probably first sighted by Francois and Louis Joseph de La Verendrye in 1743.

EGG PRICES STABILIZED

Harkness, announced that authority has been granted to the Agricultural Stabilization Board to offer to purchase, effective May 5, 1958, Grade A Large eggs on the basis of 44 cents per dozen packed in new wooden cases, delivered at Montreal.

In making this announcement the Minister stated that the Board has established the following prices at other main storage points throughout Canada:

Quebec City and Toronto, 43 cents per dozen.

Vancouver, 42 cents per dozen. Approximate Storage Points:

In Maritimes and Western Ontario, 42 cents per dozen.

In Manitoba, 41 cents per dozen.

In Saskatchewan and Alberta, 40 cents per dozen.

The Board will advise the industry with respect to other specifications.

quately the province's teachers have been trained, and how many are teaching in fields for which they have been trained. They also want to know if there is a marked difference in training between rural and urban teachers.

Electronic sorting machines will be used to tabulate the results of these investigations, which are expected to lead to subsequent and more detailed studies in the future.

"IF SOMEONE DOESN'T FIND FAULT WITH YOU, YOU HAVE TO WORRY!" — New York — Susan Sinsabers, one of the youngest stars on Broadway, isn't at all sensitive about criticism. "At the age of 19, if people did not criticize me, I'd be terribly bored. I'd have no place to go," Susan explained. Susan's first Broadway appearance was in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

RE-INSTATE FREE MATERNITY PLAN

Alberta's free maternity program has been re-instated with increased benefits and made retroactive to April 1. Department of Public Health earlier this year announced the program would be discontinued when the Alberta Hospitalization Plan became effective April 1.

Free hospitalization will be provided for mothers and children for the first twelve days of confinement. If further hospitalization is required the patients will be assessed at a rate of $1.50 to $2.00 per day for mothers, depending upon the size of the hospital, and $1.00 per day for newborns.

Cost of drugs and other hospital services previously charged to the patient will now be borne by the Province.

It Happens In Every Newspaper

The typographic error is a slippery thing and sly. You can hunt till you are dizzy. But it somehow will get by.

Till the forms are off the presses, it is strange how still it keeps; It shrinks down into a corner And it never stirs or peeps.

The typographic error is too small for human eyes, Till the ink is on the paper, When it grows to mountain size.

The Boss, he stares with horror, Then he grabs his hair, and groans.

The copy-reader drops his head Upon his hands, and moans.

The remainder of the issue May be clean as clean can be, But that typographic error Is the biggest thing you see.

(Alliance Times)

At a special meeting recently in the school, the Forestburg Curling Club decided by a large majority to go ahead with plans to install artificial ice for the 1958-59 curling season. About 40 curlers attended the meeting.

A long discussion took place about the method of raising the necessary money. About $15,000 is needed to carry out the project. It is hoped that most of this can be raised, and that the balance can be borrowed from the bank.

In order to raise money, the club is going to sell shares, and the canvass for these shares will begin immediately. Shares will cost $100 each and will be held in perpetuity by the purchaser.

The Motorist's Prayer

Grant me a steady hand and watchful eye, That no man shall be hurt when I pass by. Thou gavest life, and I pray no act of mine May take away or mar that gift of thine. Shelter those, dear Lord who bear me company. From the evils of fire and all calamity Teach me to use my car for others' need, Nor miss through love of speed The beauties of thy world; that thus I may With joy and courtesy go on my way.

Farmers Take Action On Cost-Price Squeeze

In Alberta farmers are doing something about the cost side of the cost-price squeeze presently plaguing agriculture. By co-operative action through U.F.A. Co-op, owned and controlled by farmers, these farmers are on the way to control of the cost of fuel used to provide power on their farms.

Last year a 6% dividend was declared on purchases of Maple Leaf brand U.F.A. Co-op gasolines, oils and greases.

In the bulk farm supply field, through U.F.A. Co-op locals, farmers last year received $22,000.00 cash dividends, in addition to substantial savings at the time of purchase.

Farmers — take positive action to cut your costs!

Contact your local U.F.A. Co-op agent now for Maple Leaf brand fuel and other farm supplies.

THE Homemakers

Are you planning a shower for one of the June brides? The majority of us are elegant hostesses when the party's under way, but completely nonplussed in the beginning. Here are some ideas for themes, games, etc.

A theme for your shower gives it a touch of originality.

Recipe Shower:
Each guest brings her favorite recipe. Menu suggestions accompanied by shopping lists could be included; snacks, quick meals, etc.

Clean-Up Shower:
This type of a shower could include items such as waste-paper baskets, brooms, mops, dish cloths, tea towels, etc. The cost of these items add up for a new couple starting to keep house and such a shower could be hilarious if verses accompany gifts.

Counting the gifts or making wishes for each giver is fun at a small shower. To the guest whose present is opened first will receive twice; second, will receive twice, etc. Other wishes could be added to suit the individual group.

Another game which the group may participate in is the ribbon game where as the gifts are unwrapped, the lengths of ribbon are tied together. The first end of the ribbon is passed from hand to hand as the guests sit and when the bride elect finally holds the end of the last ribbon, the guest holding the other end of the long ribbon is the next bride.

To round out the event some other activity such as a contest or game is needed.

Ice Breaker:
Each guest as he arrives is given a pencil and card and requested to get the autograph of each guest. This mainly is to make them get to know each other.

Alibi:
Ask the audience some question like this, "Why don't you believe in Santa Claus?" Give each person three minutes in which to hatch up an excuse which must end with words beginning with her initials for reply. For instance, sober Mrs. M. F. Slade, would create a connection with this reply: "Because I have to Massage Father's Soap."

Give-Me:
Divide guests into teams and have teams choose captains. A leader stands across the room and calls for articles that guests would have on them. Team members help their captain find the article to take to the leader. The first captain who turns it in to get a point for his team. Ask for such a dozen things, such as lipstick, driver's license, shoe horn, class ring, etc. A prize may be given to the winners.

Echo - Rodino

Miss Florence Landers is quite pleased over being fifteen this week.

Seeding is quite prevalent this last week of April and early May. However, with the frosty morning and cold winds, it is hard to determine what the outcome will be. Quite a violent electric storm accompanied by powerful whirlwinds passed through on May 1. A large tree was broken off three feet above the ground on one farm in the Echo area. Cut-worms have also been found quite alive in the flower beds of another farmstead. Sprinklings of hail at various intervals makes one suspicious of early summer storms. Could it be a repeat of last year in this district?

Brent Hollar is seven years old this week. Quite a grown-up lad!

Mrs. Bruce Greenwood has been a patient in Viking hospital.
